when he was sent to the State Prison at Waupun for pandering and carnal knowledge and abuse.

At the time Fazio was accused of being a leader of a white slave ring, in which, among other things, he allegedly bought for $150 another man's interest in a 15 year old girl whom the other man had placed in a house of prostitution in Sheboygan County.

That sentence was commuted by Gov. Julius Heil and Fazio was released from prison May 18, 1945. Heil's action brought protests from then Dist. Atty. Herbert J. Steffes, now a Circuit Judge, who had prosecuted Fazio, and from Milwaukee women's groups.

Slightly more than a year later — June 24, 1946 — Fazio was returned to the state prison for his part in the slaying of Mike Farina and the attempted murder of Farina's brother, Joseph, on Highway 43 in Kenosha County March 13 that year.

Also convicted in that killing were John Mandella, his brother, Jerome, and Dominic Lampone, all associates of Fazio.

Revenge Considered

Authorities believed the slaying was in revenge for the burglary of John Mandella's home. Loot from the burglary was taken to Kenosha and it was on the way back that the Farinas' truck was stopped on the highway by a car following them. Inside were the four defendants.

Joseph Farina lived to testi-

Knowles.

Because he was serving a life sentence Fazio would have been on parole for the rest of his life and as a parolee Fazio could not have held a City of Milwaukee bartender's license.

However, the commutation changed that, and he was granted a bartender's license in 1968.

1656 N. Sayre Av. about 9:40 a. m. with De Stefano's wife, Anita, police said. Valicento had driven her to visit her mother. De Stefano was found dead about 11:15 a. m. His body was sprawled on the garage floor with multiple shotgun wounds in the chest and left arm.

According to Shakespeare District homicide investigators, a coroner's autopsy revealed that De Stefano was suffering from acute malnutrition.

POLICE theorized that the killers of the 64-year-old loan shark racketeer may have even gone thru a dry run of the killing earlier this month.

On April 5, De Stefano's home was reported burglarized by someone who not only used a housekey to gain entrance but also had a key to De Stefano's elaborate burglar alarm system and knew exactly where the system's secret cutoff switch was hidden.

De Stefano told police he had surprised burglars who fled empty-handed out the back door and sped away in a small black car parked in the alley behind his house.

Sam De Stefano

However, police said they believed that De Stefano was holding back something and that the intruders may have tried to kill him.

AT LEAST eight investigators from the Shakespeare Area homicide unit were assigned to the case yesterday and spent most of the day combing the neighborhood for clues. But De Stefano's neighbors could shed little light on the killing.

Several said they had heard two loud noises, like car or truck backfires, about 10:30 a. m., but none reported seeing anybody suspicious in the neighborhood.

Police said they were still dist, and the Marquis de Sade of the mob. His dealings with his enemies were legend.

He once tied a naked man to a red hot radiator and on another occasion ordered that one enemy be hung on a meat hook.

He was indicted last August for the brutal 1963 slaying of Leo Foreman, another juice racketeer. His trial was to have begun May 30. Also indicted for the murder, but scheduled for a separate trial, are De Stefano's brother Mario, 57, and Anthony Spilotro, 34, former triggerman for the late mob chief Felix [Milwaukee Phil] Alderisio.

According to several underworld informants, Sam had had a falling out with his codefendants, and there was even a hint that he may have turned state's evidence to get a lighter sentence.

DE STEFANO'S emergence on the Chicago mob scene began inauspiciously in 1927, when, at 18, he was convicted and sentenced to three years in prison for the rape of a 17-year-old girl.

Two years later, he was out of prison and in 1932 he was shot during the attempted burglary of a food store. At that time police identified him as a member of the old 42 Gang, a band of West Side hoodlums which included many of Chicago's present crime lords.

In 1933, he went back to prison for the $5,000 robbery of a bank in New Lisbon, Wis. He was released in 1944.

In 1947 De Stefano was back behind bars again. This time it was for peddling counterfeit sugar ration stamps. He served one year in Leavenworth Fed-charges were ever filed against him, and De Stefano stayed on the payroll for a while.

In 1955, De Stefano was accused of killing his own brother, Michael, another city payroller. Underworld informants said he had stabbed his brother with a knife and then washed the body with soap and water to cleanse his soul. Michael was a dope addict.

In 1963 the body of Leo Foreman was found in the trunk of a car at 5208 W. Gladys Av. The 42-year-old reputed loanshark figure had been bludgeoned, stabbed, and shot.

DE STEFANO was suspected, but nothing could be proved. Evidence technicians vacuumed Foreman's clothing and discovered several paint and wood chips embedded in the fabric. The chips were placed in a bottle, sealed, and put on a shelf.

Last year, Charles Crimaldi, De Stefano with a baseball bat, shot, and stabbed. As Foreman lay bleeding and dying, he pleaded with De Stefano to spare him, Crimaldi said, but Sam answered, "I told you I'd get you."

IN 1970 Mario sold his house —exactly what investigators had been waiting for since 1963. They obtained search warrants, entered the home, and went over the basement floor with their equipment.

Paint and wood chips, as well as blood specks, matched those that had been found on Foreman's body and kept for nine years in the sealed bottle. Based on that evidence and Crimaldi's testimony, indictments were returned against, De Stefano, his brother, and Spilotro.

According to one source, De Stefano's trial would have cost the taxpayers of Cook County at least $15,000.

This stated that wanted to give information regarding the Louis FAZIO murder and that wanted to remain anonymous.

related the following to Lt. Brown. About 6 weeks ago, was approached in Sam's Bar, 3500 block E. Layton Ave., Cudahy, Wisconsin, by one Johnnie RANDEAU (phonetic). During this conversation Randeau stated that he drove a man, white male, whose name was not mentioned, to the rear of Louis FAZIO's home and parked in the alley. Randeau stated that he had been instructed to drive from 11th and Wells and follow Fazio home. Randeau did this and stopped in the alley. The unknown white male has explained that Fazio had owed the unknown white male $600.00 and he wanted to collect. stated that Randeau related, that Randeau was with the unknown white male at the time of the shooting. The white male after shooting Louis Fazio wanted to leave the scene. Randeau supposedly stated, "Don't you want your money." The white male stated, "I saw someone look out the window, lets get out of here."

During the past 6 weeks, Randeau has seen in Sam's Tavern several times. Each time, after becoming drunk, Randeau has related parts of this story. described Randeau as a white male, 43, 5'10", 180 lbs. dark hair. Subject is supposedly married and lives in the 3300 block of E. Grange Ave., Cudahy, Wisconsin. Randeau is also supposedly to have been a prominent heavy weight boxer during the early 1950's.

We returned to the apartment complex and checked the names on the mail boxes of 6 of the apartment buildings but could not find the name Randeau. This is a large apartment complex and we checked the apartments which were closest to the area that states that dropped off Jonny Randeau. At the apartment complex we noted that the manager of the complex is one MIRACHA, 2925 E. Grange #7. We did not contact this apartment manager due to the fact that we did not want our presence known at this time until further investigation of this matter had been conducted. Upon our return to our building, we called Detective Lieutenant Thomas Thelen and explained the situation

cost KH In the matter of INFORMATION REGARDING DORIS SCHMITTINGER, W/F, DOB: 7-19-50
cost KH

To LEO WOELFEL

Inspector of Detectives

Sir:

On August 16, 1974, a Doris Marie SCHMITTINGER, W/F, dob: 7-19-50, was arrested at Northridge Shopping Center for fraudulent use of a credit card. Subsequent to her arrest, she gave a statement at the District Attorney's Office regarding a boyfriend of hers named Jacob SCHLETCHER, W/M, (Milwaukee Sheriff's Department #32950.)

The following information was received from District (Assistant) Attorney Thomas SCHNEIDER as a result of certain statements he had received. The first statement had been received from Paul MOORE, Special Investigator for the Organized Crime Division of the District Attorney's Office, regarding information on the subject, Jacob SCHLETCHER. Mr. MOORE stated in his report that SCHLETCHER was born and raised in Chicago, and he went to various pool-halls and associated with burglars. He came to the attention of Mr. MOORE when he had threatened an Arthur BUTLER who was then the manager of Hub Chrysler Plymouth. The West Allis Police Department has a file and reports regarding this incident. SCHLETCHER also had part ownership of the Consumer Service Station located on N. 74th St. and W. Hampton Ave. An anonymous informant of Mr. MOORE who does not like SCHLETCHER stated that he has been in connection with Frank BALISTRERI. Two of his informants stated that SCHLETCHER is nothing but all talk.

The following statement was received by District Attorney Thomas SCHNEIDER in my presence on August 16, 1974. It is the statement of Doris SCHMITTINGER. On August 19, 1974, at about 8:45 A.M., in the office of Thomas SCHNEIDER, she stated she was involved with the issuing of worthless checks and also fraudulent use of a credit card. She had alot of information regarding Sally's Restaurant. Her boyfriend, Jack SCHLETCHER, (355-2095), also known as Jacob LOMBARDI, and that on the weekend of July 4, 1974, she went to Sally's Restaurant with SCHLETCHER, Herb HOLLAND, and a of N. Lovers Lane Rd. After they had dinner, they had a talk with Jimmy GENARO (Phonetic), the manager of Sally's Restaurant, and Russell, a bartender, at the restaurant. SCHLETCHER at this time pointed out several girls in the restaurant who were prostitutes. He named the girls as Diane, Molinda, and Lisa. They were all attractive white females. The girls came to the table and asked Jimmy if there was any action or conventions coming to Milwaukee. They told him they needed money and he should let them know if any action is available. SCHLETCHER stated that Jimmy also had stated that he would like to make some money too. Jimmy stated that these girls make up to about $1,000 a night. She stated that Jacob SCHLETCHER was from Chicago. He had two guns and he always carried one of them. At first she thought he was a "hit man," and then she stated that he was a "hit man" because he had told her so. On one occasion, she stated he had to kill his son's godfather. She stated that Russell also carried a gun. SCHLETCHER had some money coming from Denver. It was checked out and he did receive money from Denver but it was only a minimum amount. She also stated that SCHLETCHER does not like Frankie BALISTRERI because he always talks about getting him. Further more, she stated that SCHLETCHER went out of town frequently and that he did go out of town on the Memorial Day Weekend because she dropped him off at the airport, and he went to New York. She stated that after he went, he was waiting for some money to come from Western Union. SCHLETCHER went to Fazio's Restaurant and that FAZIO and him had talked to each other so that no one could hear them. She stated at first she was living at 8209 W. Bender St., but then she moved and lived with a Kathy, and a negro male named SLICK who put her in a motel at the Holiday Inn, in Madison, and registered under the name of Kathy LOMBARDI. She stated she was taken to and is now living at the Ramada Sands under the name of _____ This information about SLICK and Kathy was later found to be untrue in a subsequent statement.

She then related information as to what she did with the goods that were stolen and this proved to be false also. She stated she went to the Red Carpet Inn frequently and that she knew _____ the manager, because he was a friend of SCHLETCHER and she also knew a _____, and several other people from the Red Carpet Inn. She stated that was helping her with bowling. She stated that SCHLETCHER on one occasion went to Denver with Jimmy GENARO (Phonetic), and they came back with a man named Joe BASILY, Milwaukee Police Department #128844. She also stated that on another occasion a man named Dennis who use to run the Holiday Inn Central gave SCHLETCHER $500, in cash, in her presence. She was asked if she was familiar with the term "black jack" and she stated this was the nickname of SCHLETCHER. A good friend of SCHLETCHER'S was a Herbert HOLLAND. She did not know the kind of work HOLLAND did, but that he did quite a bit of work with SCHLETCHER. She stated that SCHLETCHER had a 4th of July party and he got into a fight. Jimmy GENARO (Phonetic) was also at this party. This statement was then terminated.

Another statement is as follows: On August 20, 1974, she stated that in May or June of 1974, Jacob SCHLETCHER went to Denver and then he returned. She stated that when SCHLETCHER returned he showed her a front page picture of Joe (last name unknown) possibly SALAIGO who was being arrested. She stated that Joe was arrested in Denver and that SCHLETCHER told her that he had been sent to Denver to "hit" the informant, referring to the person who put down this Joe. She stated SCHLETCHER had been seeing a lot of Herb HOLLAND and Joe BASILY. It seemed to her that they were edging Herbert HOLLAND out of the business. She stated that BASILY left for Denver recently and that Jacob SCHLETCHER was going to move there soon. SCHLETCHER was expecting some money from Denver. (She also gave some information about SCHLETCHER and his black T-Bird and there were a number of bullet holes in the body. She does not know what he did with this black T-Bird.)

Doris SCHMITTINGER also related the information regarding Arthur BUTLER which had been previously mentioned in Paul MOORE'S report.

Doris also gave some information about SCHLETCHER and stated he told her that he had stolen some diamonds fromHaacks Jewelers at Northridge.

She was then shown a photo of Harold KLEIN of Klein Industries. She stated that on one occasion she had observed SCHLETCHER and KLEIN talking together. She also gave some information in regards the burglary at the Embassy Homes near N. 92d St. and W. Silver

Spring and that Herb HOLLAND and Joe BASILY were with her and SCHLETCHER at the time of the burglary and that a Jimmy DE LOCK (Phonetic) had stole most of the furniture. She stated the furniture (most) is in SCHLETCHER'S possession at this time. She also stated that SCHLETCHER for some reason was worried about Denver. She stated that Jacob SCHLETCHER'S phone number is 355-2095. Subsequent to receiving this information from statements at the District Attorney's Office, we contacted FBI Agent Bud HALL at the Federal Building. Mr. HALL gave us various photographs which have been turned over to Detectige Snead Carroll. He gave us a photo of Frank George SALADINO, #24150, who is from Rockford, Illinois. He also gave us a photo of Herbert HOLLAND, our B of I #140127, and SCHLETCHER, our B of I #32950, Sheriffs Dept. Number, also of Joseph BASILY, MPD #128844. He then gave us some information which he had received from an anonymous source. SCHLETCHER has been presently hanging around with a man named "Jeff" at a tavern near N. 18th St. and W. Wells St. A check with our gambling squad revealed that this "Jeff" maybe Jeffrey SIMONS, W/M, and believed to be from Beaver Dam, Wis. He has also been going to J.B. Grants gambling place on N. 27th St. and W. Vine St. It is located three houses north of Vine on 27th St., on the east side of the street, and he has a mirror in the door. BASILY, as previously mentioned, owns a restaurant in Denver. BASILY is also a LCN member in Rockford, Illinois. SCHLETCHER is now running around with a negro female called "Black Diamond" and she is a prostitute for him. SCHLETCHER also has connections with Cocaine dealers. A check with our gambling squad revealed that "Black Diamond" may possibly be a Terra TYLOR, N/F, who has a record for prostitution with this department. SCHLETCHER also goes to an After Hours place on N. Teutonia and Finn. He knows a white male there called Rick. In conjunction with this, our gambling squad stated that Rick maybe known as "White Rick" and that the address of this establishment is 3713 N. Teutonia Ave., and they have an investigation being conducted at this time regarding same. Mr. HALL also stated that recently the MARCHIESE BROTHERS purchased J.B. Grants place (gambling house) on N. 27th St. and W. Vine. This was arranged by SCHLETCHER. He also stated that a Melvin DAUB (Phonetic), N/M, is a Cocaine contact and deals with SCHLETCHER and BASILY. The name Melvin DAUB (Phonetic) was checked with the Narcotic Squad and it was found that a negro male named Melvin DAUB (Phonetic) has an extensive record in the Narcotic Squads card file, but it would appear that Mr. DAUB (Phonetic) is primarily a user and not a dealer unless his situation has changed recently. Mr. HALL also stated that SCHLETCHER was in Lakeview Hospital, 10010 W. Bluemound Rd., on October 22, 1974. Furthermore, his information states that a friend of his who had worked as a bartender at Jake's Restaurant on N. 76th St. and W. Hampton was not paid; and therefore, he stated that SCHLETCHER had burglarized this restaurant in an attempt to get the money which was not paid to his friend. This information was not checked out. SCHLETCHER also knows the manager, Dennis SCOTT, at the Red Carpet Bowling Alleys at N. 76th St. and W. Florist. Mr. HALL also believed that SCHLETCHER involved in some type of truck hijacking. Mr. HALL had previously interviewed Doris SCHMITTINGER, in Canada, where she was arrested, and subsequently exported back to the United States. At this time, she stated that SCHLETCHER had killed Louie FAZIO for $30,000, and this was financed by Jimmy GENARO (Phonetic), however, Mr. HALL felt that this was not reliable information. It was his opinion that Mr. FAZIO had been murdered by a white male known in Milwaukee as Frank STELLO. He further indicated that some LCN members in Chicago are attempting to move in on a Milwaukee Tavern and there is a present possibility that there maybe some trouble because of this attempt by Chicago members to move in on some Milwaukee activities.

Explain in detail what work was done on the case:

On Wednesday, 9/27/72, at about 7:00am, we were dispatched to investigate a possible Homicide at the rear of 2805 N. Humboldt Ave.. Upon arriving, we met Squad 935, Ptm. Ray STAHL, #5 District, Late Shift. He informed us that he had heard the dispatch of a man down come over the air and he was in the immediate area and proceeded to the scene. There he found the body of an unknown male, lying on its side with the head pointed in a Southwesterly direction and lying on a concrete parking area between two automobiles. He immediately requested for an ambulance and he did chalk off the body.

We observed that this area is a concrete space which is large enough to park three autos, there were three automobiles parked facing a Easterly direction. We found that the chalk marks were between the vehicle to the immediate North and the vehicle in the middle. The vehicles are as follows: The vehicle to the immediate North is a 1959 Chevrolet, 4-door sedan, blue in color with Wisconsin license P50/218-68 registration. This auto appears to have been disabled with three flat tires. The auto in the middle is a 1972, Chevrolet coach, black vinyl top over gray bottom, Wisconsin license Y12/364-72-expiration date The vehicle identification on this automobile is as follows: 1M47H2J176025. The vehicle to the South is a 1961 Pontiac, convertible, black top, white bottom, Wisconsin license, X23/949-72 expiration. We found a large pool of coagulated blood at the concrete platform, near the left rear wheel of the vehicle in the center, which be the 72 Chevrolet. Approximately 3 to 4 feet East of this pool of blood and partially under the auto was a leather packet containing various keys. Just to the North of the keys, and on the concretepplatform, was the Milwaukee Sentenial, with todays date. We found that the left front

Explain in detail what work was done on the case:

On Wednesday, 9-27-72, at 3:30p.m. we interviewed a Robert Edwin WALBERG, W/M, dob 4-22-28, Milwaukee County Sheriff's #24955, presently in custody in Milwaukee County Jail awaiting trial for Possession of Stolen Property.

This interview took place in a conference room of the Criminal Investigation Division of the Milwaukee County Sheriff's Department. Present at this interview was Robert Walberg, his attorney, Atty. Goullee, Assistant Dist. Atty. Tesch, and Detectives Raymond Koehler and Robert Blackburn.

The purpose of this interview was to question certain statements, allegedly made by Walberg, while being interviewed by FBI agents on Wednesday, 9-20-72, in that he had stated that either on a Tuesday or on a Friday there was going to be a hit in Milwaukee. During the course of our questioning Mr. Walberg, he told us that he had no information concerning the death of Louie Fazio. FBI agents had just finished talking with him about one half hour prior to our seeing him on this date, and that he had talked to them for approximately three hours. He further stated that there were two FBI agents and a third man, wearing a blue sport coat, who identified himself, as being with "The Milwaukee P. D." At approximately 3:35p.m. Mr. Tesch left the room, as Walberg was not too responsive to any questioning in Mr. Tesch's presence. Also, during the time of our interview and with the permission of his client, Mr. Goullee, also left at 3:45p.m. stating he had to make an appearance in Judge Kessler's court room, for a Murder preliminary. At this time, Detectives Koehler and Blackburn were alone with Walberg.

Walberg was approached regarding his statements that he made, allegedly made, to the FBI agents, and he stated that the statement was not true in it's entirety. He stated that while being interviewed by the FBI agents last week Wednesday, he had stated that while in Waupun, from 1965 to 1968, he had conversation with an inmate, whom he only remembers the first name of Ernie. At that time, this Ernie was making statements to the effect that he was talking about making a hit on a Fazio Jr. That this Fazio Jr. left Fazio's on Fifth every Tuesday morning with a large amount of money, which he took to Chicago. Their plan was to stop him some place on the highway, between Milwaukee and Chicago; and that they would take the money from him then. Further, that there was no plan for any shooting. Walberg's comment to Ernie, "This would be a very foolish move, that he would be better off trying to knock over a casino in Las Vegas. He'd stand a better chance of getting away with it."

Several times during our questioning of Walberg, we brought up the statement that he allegedly made to the FBI agents, and he told us that this was wrong about this being a recent hit. That this was conversation that he had with an inmate back in 1965 through 1968, while he was at Waupun State Penitentiary. He said in no way was that to infer that that was going to occur sometime in the near future, referring to last Sunday up to today's date. He also said that the FBI agents that saw him on this date, Wednesday, 9-27-72, also insisted that this remark about a hit being made on a Tuesday or a Friday was referring to the present, and he told them that he denied this. He stated, at this time, he has no knowledge of who did kill Louie Fazio. That he was first informed of Fazio's death, when the FBI agents saw him on this date, Wednesday, 9-27-72. We concluded our interview with Walberg at 5:15p.m. and returned to the County Jail.

Explain in detail what work was done on the case: On Thursday, September 28, 1972, we interviewed a Paul Barney WOZNIAK, W/M, DOB: 6-30-20, at his home at 726 N. 12th St., Apt. 309. This interview took place at approximately 2:45AM, on Thursday, September 28, 1972.

Mr. WOZNIAK informed us that he knew the deceased, Louis FAZIO, for many years, going back to the time before Louis FAZIO was sent to Waupaun for Murder. He also met the deceased while in the State Prison in Waupun and knew him quite well. Upon Mr. WOZNIAK's release from the State Prison at Waupun, approximately 2 years ago, he was employed at Frenchy's Restaurant as a cook. One evening he stopped at the Ironhorse Restaurant, 1100 W. Wells St. and there he renewed his acquaintance with Louis FAZIO, at which time the deceased employed Mr. WOZNIAK as a cook at the Ironhorse Restaurant at 1100 W. Wells St.. Mr. WOZNIAK has been employed there since that time, approximately 2 years and is still employed in this capacity.

We questioned Mr. WOZNIAK regarding the death of Mr. FAZIO, to see if he could shed any light or give us any information as to whom may have committed this offense. He stated to his knowledge, the deceased had no enemies, was a very friendly and li able man. Mr. WOZNIAK states that he and the deceased often talked in the evenings, which were his hours of duty as a cook. Mr WOZNIAK stated he started his tour of work in the afternoon and would quit sometime between 12:30 and 1:00AM on week nights and 2:00AM on Saturday nights. We further questioned Mr. WOZNIAK, but he insisted that to his knowledge, Mr. FAZIO had no enemies. He did state, to his knowledge, since his term of employment for the deceased, he can only recall one incident, which seemed to him to appear a little bit unusual. He stated that on Friday, September 22, 1972, at approximately 9:00PM, a Deputy Sheriff, dressed in a Milwaukee County Sheriff's Department uniform, with a gun, entered the Ironhorse Restaurant and as he was looking out of the kitchen, he observed the deputy talk to the bartender, who is a nephew of the deceased, one Ray SOMINSKI (phonetic spelling). The deputy sheriff asked who was the owner of the establishment. Mr. Ray SOMINSKI, the bartender, stated that the owner, Mr. FAZIO, was not in the establishment at the present time. The deputy sheriff had a brown envelope, which made Mr. WOZNIAK think it was apparently some sort of legal papers being served on the deceased. The deputy sheriff stated to the bartender that if the owner was not here, he would return later and left the Ironhorse Restaurant. Mr. WOZNIAK asked the bartender if he knew what it was about and the bartender said he knew nothing about any papers was not aware of what apparently was going on. Mr. WOZNIAK, the next day, Saturday, September 23, 1972, asked the deceased if the deputy sheriff had returned and if there was anything the matter. The deceased informed Mr. WOZNIAK that he was not aware of being served any papers, he was not in any trouble and anticipated no trouble and does not know why the deputy sheriff was looking for him. Sometime on Monday, September 25, 1972, Mr. WOZNIAK asked Mr. FAZIO, the deceased, if the deputy sheriff had returned with the papers. Mr. FAZIO said no. Mr. WAZNIAK asked no more questions, but considered this to be odd that a deputy sheriff would be serving any type of papers at this hour on a Friday night and in a deputy sheriff's uniform. He could offer no other information. He did state that more information could possibly obtained from the deceased's nephew, Ray SOMINSKI.

The only other information that Mr. WOZNIAK could offer was the fact that Mr. FAZIO, the deceased, was anticipating

Mr. WOZNIAK knows no more about it, only that the deceased intended to enter the hospital soon.

We questioned Mr. WOZNIAK further, to determine if he knew how much money the deceased may have been carrying or in what amounts and what was his practice upon leaving restaurant. Mr. WOZNIAK informed us that the deceased carried three wallets, one he carried in the front pocket with his own money, another in a rear pocket in which he carried money to pay certain insurances and things that had to do with the tavern and restaurant business and another wallet with cards - business cards and personal identification in it. Mr. WOZNIAK was sure that he always carried these three wallets. He further stated that the deceased left the restaurant at different hours and took different routes home. Mr. WOZNIAK was sure of this because he had discussed it with the deceased, and Mr. FAZIO had informed Mr. WOZNIAK that he did this because he did not want to be followed or have anything happen to him. Mr. WOZNIAK could give us no further information regarding why the deceased was killed or whom may have killed him.

Suggest that it would be a good idea if someone could contact Mr. Ray SOMETHI, the bartender, to determine, or obtain more information regarding the incident with the deputy sheriff.

We talked to numerous colored people in the colored area who would have any type of connections with the deceased Louis Fazio, and who might frequent the Iron Horse Restaurant, located intthe 1100 block of N. The people that we talked to stated that they had not heard anything that any black people were involved in the murder of deceased. The people that we talked to stated that they would talk to their friends and see if they could gain any information about the murder of Louis Fazio. We talked to several known acquaintances of Louis Fazio. One W/M, of N. 6th Street, also the operator of the Tinder Drop Tavern, of N. Center Street. We were unable to get any information from him.

All of the parties questioned stated that they believe that this possibly could have been a gangland type murder, but they had no information of, or evidence that would point in that direction. These were just their personal feelings.

We also talked to several employees of the Cathlic Knights, which is located in the same building as the Iron Horse Restaurant in the 1100 block of N. Wells. Explain in detail what work was done on the case: On Thursday, September 28, 1972, we learned from the Fazio family at this time that the deceased Fazio had two money clips which he possessed. According to them it is very possible that these money clips were on his person at the time of his death, because no one from the family is able to find these money clips either at his residence or at his place of business, The Iron Horse Resteurent.

They described these money clips as one being either silver or gold, it is a money clip in the form of a dollar sign which has mounted in the center of it an unknown coin (the size of a quarter, or nickel), and that is one money clip that he had received from his daughter many years ago. The second money clip is a money clip which has a gold Mexican coin mounted on two gold bars. This money clip is supposedly quitedheavy in weight. According to the family he was known to carry these money clips with him on his person. As far as they knew, and seeing as how none of these money clips had been found they are assuming that he might have had them on his person at the time of his death.

A money clip in the form of a dollar sign was received from a Milwaukee jewelry in the Downtown area, and this was brought to our B of I where photos were taken of this money clip with a coin on it. We had one photo taken with a quarter coin, and one photo taken with a nickel coin on it. We also had a silver dollar put on two gold bars which would simulate the Mexican gold coin money clip which Mr. Fazio had. A photo of this was also taken. At the present time we have ordered one hundred photos from the B of I, and they are being processed and will be picked up and distributed to investigating officers at a later date when they are available.

We informed the owner and operator of Sally's Steak House, a Mrs. Sally Ann PAPIA, W/F, 3-20-32 of 2880 Menomonee River Parkway, 771-0790, Business Phone 272-5363, that the Milwaukee Telephone Company Operator had received a call and that there a threat that a bomb was to go off in her restaurant. After talking with Mrs. Papia, she agreed and did consult all of her employees, including the waitresses, hostesses and kitchen help to the fact that there was a possibility that a bomb was in th building and that the members of her staff did check their entire assigned working areas, with negative results. over either his mouth, or the mouth piece of the telephone to disguise his voice. She stated that the exact conversation was, "There is going to be a bomb go off in thirty minutes at Sally's on Juneau in retaliation for Fazio." The caller then hung up. Mrs. Harper stated that she then pushed the hold button and rang the phone from which the original call originated. She stated that no one answered for approximately one minute, and that shortly thereafter, an unknown white male did pick up the receiver of the telephone. The caller stated that he just stepped into the phone booth and was going to use the phone. Mrs. Harper questioned the caller as to the whereabouts to the phone and the caller stated he was a block South of North Ave on Farwell Avenue, and gave the phone number of the phone booth as being 273-9619. The caller then was advised to use another phone, that they were going to keep this line open temporarily. I then had Mrs. Harper check the number to find the exact location of 273-9619, and she informed me that this number is a pay phone located at 2353 North Farwell Avenue. Mrs. Harper was unable to furnish any additional information.

At the time of this writing, we feel that this was nothing more than a prank call given to the Telephone Company by a mentally retarded , or illiterate person who wanted to frighten the owner, Sally Papia.
